SENATE VIRTUALLY KILLS ROOSEVELT'S COURT BILL

TRAXLER AGAIN FACES CELL IN TEXAS PRISON

Southwestern Outlaw Withstands Effect of Bullet Wound Near Heart.

COMPANION IS KILLED

Twelve-Day Chase After Desperadoes Ends as Hostages Shoot Them Down.

By The Associated Press

[illegible], Okla., July 22 — Return to a Texas prison farm loomed today for Roy "Pete" Traxler as the slippery southwest gunman continued to withstand the effects of a bullet wound over the heart.

His companion in a 12-day flight to a morgue, a victim of the desperadoes' own guns. The companion, Fred Tindol, was slain and Traxler was shot by two officers the outlaws had kidnaped in their flight from almost 1,000 officers in southern Oklahoma.

Frank Trimmer, 50, a farmer, and J. E. Denton, 44, oil field worker, snatched guns from the dying outlaws when the exhausted fugitives dozed in a car near Bossier, Okla.

After being brought to a hospital here and placed under armed guard, Traxler appeared bitter toward the man who wounded him.

"I tried to tell the guy he didn't need to shoot me because I was all through," Traxler said. "I knew it. I didn't have a chance. But I just wasted my breath. He got shot. I fell out of the car to keep him from killing me."

Trimmer and Denton both fired at Tindol, then Denton turned his gun on Traxler.

Trimmer, who was driving, was kidnaped from his home and forced to drive his car, after the two fugitives had ditched the car in which they kidnaped Denton.

Describe Capture

"Traxler told Trimmer to pull up at the roadside," said Denton. "And we would wait until it got dark."

Denton, riding in the back seat with Tindol, said he saw Tindol's gun on the seat. Traxler's gun was in the seat as he sat beside Trimmer. Traxler dozed.

The two hostages exchanged glances in the rear view mirror, and both grabbed for the guns.

"When I got the car parked and saw Traxler had dozed off," said Trimmer, "I glanced back at Denton and saw Tindol was asleep too. Both of us grabbed for their guns. Both of us shot Tindol at the same time then Denton shot Traxler.

"Traxler begged us to get him a doctor. He said he was afraid he might bleed to death. After a while he started threatening us. He said he knew he was going to die."

As four armed guards watched over Traxler in his hospital room here, Gov. James V. Allred of Texas announced he would ask extradition.

"Hated To Shoot"

In telling of the capture, Trimmer said, "I hated to do it. I wish there'd been some other way out. But I figured that if the officers caught us all in the car they would shoot. It was either their life or ours."

"I shot Tindol, and J. E. Denton shot Traxler. Tindol died instantly. Traxler begged Denton not to shoot again." Denton is an oil field worker vacationing in this area.

"We never hurt anybody," Traxler mumbled as he tossed from the pain of his wound in a Hugo hospital. "All we wanted was to get away."

The weary gunmen had subsisted mainly on whisky and narcotics for nearly two weeks of desperate hide-and-seek with Texas and Oklahoma police.

Good Chance to Recover

At the Hugo hospital, Dr. Joe Bruce said Traxler was resting well and the desperado was given a good chance to recover.

County Attorney Ben Carter of Durant said he would file charges of armed robbery or kidnaping against Traxler, probably today. The former charge carries a maximum penalty of death. The death penalty provided in the state kidnaping law would not apply in Traxler's case, Carter said.

Only a small amount of money was found on Traxler. His tan shirt had one hole in the back and there were powder burns showing he had been shot at close range.

Traxler puffed nervously at a cigaret and said:

"Tell my wife I'll pull out all right."

Mrs. Nell Tingley Traxler, for whose sake Traxler appeared reckless in Verden, Okla., yesterday, driving her away as townspeople looked on aghast, was in the county jail at Durant. She was captured late Tuesday near Durant when possemen trapped the fugitives at the dead end of a country lane and opened fire.

Mrs. Traxler fainted and Traxler

JUDGE SAW DOUBLE IN THIS CASE

Tangled matrimonial skein of Lois and Louise Coats, identical twins, made a Los Angeles judge see double when twin boys, Hubert and Herbert Sharp, asked twin annulments of their marriage in Arkansas to the Coats girls. The Sharp twins asserted their twin wedding wasn't legal because interlocutory divorce decrees obtained by their wives from their 1934 husbands, twin U. TRUMAN GIVEN FINE OF $500

Ten-Day Jail Sentence Suspended by Judge Martin Today.

APPEAL BOND IS FIXED

Attorney Announces Intention of Carrying "Numbers" Conviction to Higher Court.

S. W. (Slim) Truman, convicted last month of promoting the numbers game in Marion, was fined $500 and costs and sentenced to 10 days in jail this morning by Municipal Judge William R. Martin. The jail sentence was suspended.

The fine will not be paid until the case is finally settled by higher courts to which Paul D. Smith, attorney for Truman, said he will appeal. An appeal bond of $2?? was signed by Truman following sentence this morning.

The sentencing today followed the overruling of Truman's request for a new trial yesterday afternoon by Judge Martin. Truman was convicted early in June following a one-day trial in municipal court, all the evidence and testimony being introduced by the city, Truman declining to testify.

He was arrested last April following a raid on a Park Boulevard residence in which nine other persons were arrested in connection with the numbers game. The city based its case on the fact that money wrappers bearing his initials were found at the house, that he had been seen near the house and that papers properly belonging to his restaurant were found at the house.

Mr. Smith said he will appeal the case within the next few days to the common pleas court and, if his client is defeated there, will go to the Third district court of appeals and possibly the state supreme court.

SPARK BLAMED FOR HINDENBURG BLAST

U. S. Bureau of Air Commerce Makes Report on Explosion Fatal to 36.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 22—The bureau of air commerce has decided an electrostatic spark probably set off the explosion that destroyed the zeppelin Hindenburg May 6 with a loss of 36 lives.

The bureau's report late yesterday offered the theory that contact of ground ropes with wet earth at the Lakehurst, N. J., landing field provided the channel through which the fatal spark traveled.

It ignited a mixture of humid air and hydrogen, which had leaked from stern cells of the German airship, the report continued.

At Friedrichshafen, Germany, Dr. Hugo Eckener, veteran dirigible designer and commander, said the theory was logical.

Commander Charles E. Rosendahl of the naval air station at Lakehurst, however, commented he was not yet satisfied the possibility of sabotage had been removed.

Rosendahl pointed out the bureau's investigators did not "positively and definitely" blame the tragedy on natural or accidental phenomena.

C. B. Kling Will Filed Here in Probate Court

Bulk of Estate Goes to Widow and Children; Firemen Given Bequest.

The will of the late Clifford B. Kling, former Marion hardware dealer and a brother of Mrs. Warren G. Harding, was probated in Marion county probate court yesterday afternoon. Mr. Kling died at his home here Sunday, July 11.

Sharing in the distribution of the estate, said to be one of the largest ever probated here, are the widow, Mrs. Susie B. Kling, two daughters, Mrs. Hazel Kling Longshore and Miss Louise Kling, a brother, Vetallis H. Kling of 643 Ballentine avenue, a cousin, Mrs. William H. Boyd of Kansas City, Mo., a long-time employe of the Kling family, Mrs. Kate Mikle of 355 Cherry street, and the Marion fire department, in which Mr. Kling took a strong personal interest.

Harry J. Merchant of 645 East Center street is named executor of the estate, with Mrs. Kling as executrix. An appraisal of the estate has not been made as yet.

Drawn In 1932

The will, drawn June 21, 1932, and written in long-hand by Mr. Kling, leaves the bulk of the estate to the widow. Each of the daughters, Mrs. Longshore and Miss Kling, is bequeathed a business block and some personal effects.

A trust fund of $35,000 is established for the brother, who is to receive the net income from it for the remainder of his life, after which it is to be divided among the widow and daughters. Mrs. Boyd is bequeathed $5,000 and Mrs. Mikle $2,000.

The Marion fire department is willed the net income from a $3,000 trust fund, to be used in the purchase of books and magazines. Mr. Merchant is named testamentary trustee of both of the trust funds.

Real estate willed to the widow consists of the buildings housing the Crawbaugh hardware store at 113 North Main street, the Mautz Bros. hardware store at 147 South Main street and Snow's Racket store at 123 South Main street, the Kling residence at 254 East Center street, and a winter home at Rockledge, Fla. Mrs. Kling also is bequeathed some personal effects, an automobile and household goods and furnishings in the Marion and Rockledge homes.

Given I. O. O. F. Block

Mrs. Longshore is willed the I. O. O. F. block at 133 North Main street in addition to some personal effects. An undivided two-fifths interest in the Hotel Marion building is bequeathed to Miss Kling, along with some personal effects. The remaining three-fifths of the hotel building is owned by the estates of the late George H. Kling, an uncle of Mr. Kling, and the late John J. Hane.

Mrs. Boyd, who was left $5,000 by Mr. Kling, is the former Stella Tristram, daughter of Bartholomew Tristram, who for years was associated with the late Sidney Young in the shoe business on North Main street.

The residue of the estate, after deduction of the bequests, is to be distributed to the widow and daughters, Mrs. Kling to receive three-fifths and the daughters one-fifth each.

Witnesses to the will were Fred E. Guthery, R. E. White and E. Paul Bachman.

Mr. Kling's bequest to the fire department climaxed a long period of years in which he had been personally interested in the department. He made many gifts to the department, sending boxes of fruit, trophies and mementos from Florida, where he had win-

POLICE SCORED FOR DEATHS IN CHICAGO RIOT

Civil Liberties Committee Tells Senate Shooting Fatal to 10 Not Necessary.

"INDIFFERENCE" CHARGED

"Excessive Force" Allegedly Used in Dispersing Memorial Day Crowd.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 22—The La Follette Civil Liberties committee said today that Chicago police used "excessive force" and showed "the most careless indifference to human life and suffering" in breaking up a Memorial day demonstration of steel strike sympathizers.

The report, filed with the senate by Chairman La Follette, Progressive of Wisconsin, followed a committee investigation of the encounter near the gates of the Republic steel plant, in which 10 demonstrators were killed and scores injured on last May 30.

(A coroner's jury, sitting in Chicago, returned verdicts last Tuesday holding the deaths to be "justifiable homicide.")

The committee found that "the police attack came without warning," after "the first shots * * * came from a police revolver."

Say Attack Unprovoked

Speakers at a strike mass meeting just before the clash said nothing "which could be even remotely construed as an incitement to assault the police or to capture the plant," the report said.

"We find that the provocation for the police assault did not go beyond abusive language, and the throwing of isolated missiles from the rear ranks of the marchers," the committee asserted.

"We believe that it might have been possible to disperse the crowd without the use of weapons."

The committee added that "uncontradicted photographic and oral evidence, corroborated by the admissions of the police themselves, established that their treatment of the injured was characterized by

Fate Of All Eastern Asia At Stake in North China

Writer Describes Sino-Japanese Crisis as Smouldering Volcano Which May Erupt in War.

In the following dispatch, James A. Mills, veteran Associated Press foreign correspondent, analyzes the Sino-Japanese crisis from the background of his long experience of Japan's aims for expansion on the continent of Asia.

By Telephone to New York
BY JAMES A. MILLS
By The Associated Press

TOKYO, July 22—On the eve of the 71st special session of her parliament which opens tomorrow Japan finds herself facing one of the gravest periods in her history. The outcome may determine the destiny of the empire, the fate of China and the future of all eastern Asia.

The whole nation of 100,000,000 people and all the might of the empire are mobilized for a struggle against China. Within the last 10 days Japan has rushed thousands of reinforcements to China and is prepared to dispatch thousands more if necessary.

It is generally agreed that yesterday's patched-up agreement between the local Chinese and Japanese officials in North China is merely a temporary regional truce which does not preclude further serious events. The truce called for the withdrawal of the Chinese forces from Peiping and the area west of the city where they have been fighting with the Japanese since July 7. The central Chinese government at Nanking has already rejected this agreement.

In no way does this agreement affect the graver national issues between the Tokyo and the Nanking governments. It was chiefly for the purpose of forcing a settlement of these major disputes between the two countries, observers declared, that the Japanese government dispatched its powerful army and navy units to China.

For the dispatch of so large and so costly an expedition the Japanese will expect concrete results and these results must come in the form of a solution of the outstanding problems between the two countries.

Outstanding Issues

Among these issues are:

1. Joint Sino-Japanese suppression of Communism;
2. Abolition of China's nation-wide boycott against Japanese and Japanese goods;
3. Recognition of Japan's political and economic trade rights in North China;
4. Joint economic development of North China by Japan and China;
5. Establishment of Japanese airlines and airdromes in China (Japan grants no such reciprocal rights to China).
6. Settlement of and reparation for a whole series of alleged acts of violence suffered by Japanese nationals in China at the hands of Chinese, including a number of mob murders;
7. Lowering of tariffs on Japanese goods;
8. Recognition by China of Manchouquo, the state Japan created out of former Chinese provinces in Manchuria.

A dispatch to the newspaper Asahi from Nanking says that despite the Peiping agreement the larger issues between Japan and China remain unsolved. The paper adds that it is expected that hereafter Nanking will exert even stronger pressure upon the Hopeh-Chahar regime in whose name the agreement was concluded and that the northward advance of troops of the Chinese central government will continue.

Tension Growing

This, Asahi says, will bring about even greater tension between the two countries and lead to fresh trouble. Gen. Sung Cheh-Yuan, chairman of the Hopeh-Chahar political council, has already foreseen this development, the dispatch says, and has failed to send any reports to Nanking regarding the agreement with the Japanese authorities or any part of the text.

A dispatch from the Peiping correspondent of Nichi-Nichi declares that the terms of the agreement were by no means being fully carried out, as some of the Chinese troops still hold their positions in the so-called evacuated area.

POSSIBLE PEACE MOVE

Troops Also Withdrawn From Trouble Area in Sino-Japanese Crisis.

By The Associated Press

TOKYO, July 22—The war office was reliably reported today to have issued orders indefinitely suspending the delivery of huge orders of war supplies and halting the shipment of such equipment to North China.

Although the meaning of this move in the tense Sino-Japanese situation was not immediately apparent, some observers interpreted it as an indication peace rather than war was visible on the horizon after two weeks clouded by threat of open hostilities.

The order suspending the delivery of war necessities was understood to have been issued about mid-afternoon and immediately was put into effect by the firms which have been turning out quantities of supplies for the Japanese army in north China.

A Domei (Japanese) news agency dispatch from Nanking declared that the Japanese charge d'affaires, Shinrokuro Hidaka, had sent sent an important secret report on the situation to Tokyo. No hint of its contents was given.

Chinese troop withdrawals from the Wanping-Hsien battle zone west of Peiping eased the tension in North China yesterday.

Two weeks after conflict broke of the Chinese twenty-ninth army out in the area, almost all soldiers were evacuated under an agreement calling also for withdrawal of Japanese troops.

Chinese said the next 24 hours may tell whether the Japanese will fulfill their part of the bargain or attempt to occupy the demilitarized zone.

They declared such occupation would give the Japanese control of the northern terminal of the strategic Peiping-Hankow Railroad.

Japanese maintained watch during the day as the Chinese soldiers departed. Machine gunners guarded trenches behind which batteries of howitzers were trained on Wanpingheelen.

PLAN FOR DIVISION OF PALESTINE SIDETRACKED

British Plan To Parcel Land Between Arabs and Jews Delayed For Study by House of Commons.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, July 22 — The British plan to parcel Palestine between Arabs and Jews was sidetracked today in the house of commons in a compromise move after long and bitter debate.

A delay which would permit further study of the plan before final parliamentary action and submission of it to the league of nations was decided upon in a rising vote by the chamber. It drew general support of the house.

The compromise came after Colonial Secretary William G. A. Ormsbygore told the members that the present league mandate over Palestine is "no longer workable."

He submitted the British royal commission's recommendation that Palestine be partitioned between Jews and Arabs, with Britain taking a new mandate over Palestine's holy cities.

Both Arabs and Jews long at odds in the holy land, have criticized the plan, the Jews arguing that it would block fulfillment of the ideal of a Jewish homeland since territorial restrictions would forbid any considerable immigration.

COUNTY GETS SHARE OF TAX

Sales Levy Distribution Held Up by New Law Is Made by State Auditor.

FOLLOWS DUFFY RULING

City Will Receive Larger Portion of $8,299 Paid Here Today.

Marion county today received its share of $1,566,436 in sales tax for June which the state auditor had been holding back for several days under a new state law which requires counties to pay their debts to the state first. The distribution was made following an opinion by Attorney General Herbert S. Duffy Tuesday that the state auditor had failed to give the counties a required 30-day notice before withholding their sales tax funds.

The total share for Marion county is $8,299.92 and brings the sales tax received so far this year to $33,770.23. The city, which has received the bulk of previous distributions, received $5,914.05 of today's. The county proper received $1,247.40.

Shares of townships follow: Big Island, $143.67; Bowling Green, Grand Prairie, Grand, Pleasant, Richland, Scott and Tully, each $30.79; Green Camp Salt Rock and Waldo, each $41.04; Claridon and Marion, each $61.57; Montgomery, $173.12, and Prospect, $51.71.

Village shares are: Green Camp, Morral, Agosta and Waldo, each $30.79; Caledonia, Lattua and Prospect each $61.57.

County Auditor Harry V. Mounts who received the check this morning, said his records show the county owes the state $57,429.29 to date for hospitalization of county patients in state institutions. The bill has been piling up since 1931. Virtually all counties owe the state for similar services, the larger ones owing well over $500,000.

The law, passed by the legislature last winter, authorized the state auditor to withhold the funds until the counties paid their debts. The attorney general ruled following a request by Franklin county authorities.

Mr. Mounts said it is impossible for the county to raise sufficient funds to pay off the debt by taxation within the 10-mill limit.

GRAND JURY STARTS PROBE AT IRONTON

By The Associated Press

IRONTON, O., July 22—Presentation of evidence began today before a special grand jury investigating State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson's charges of irregularities in Lawrence county relief, school district and general funds.

A jury of 13 persons was selected speedily from a panel of 22 which reported this morning.

Nineteen witnesses were called by Thomas A. Porter Jr., special prosecuting attorney for Atty. Gen. Herbert S. Duffy. Burke said the grand jury probably would be in session at least two days.

MYSTERY SURROUNDS TRANSATLANTIC HOP

Radio Message Reports Plane Sighted Off Newfoundland Last Night.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, July 22 — The mystery of a plane reported flying across the Atlantic to Europe became deeper and darker today as American and Canadian radio men stood by for further word.

A message, picked up by radio marine corporation's station at Chatham, Mass., said the plane had been seen and heard 500 miles east of Cape Race, Newfoundland, at 8:04, last night.

Chatham picked up the message from the American freighter Seamail which relayed it from another ship. It identified as the British freighter Ranee, whose call letters are GSPV. But the Ranee, it was learned, is in the West Indies, and the radio men at Chatham now think the Seamail radio operator made a mistake in receiving the call letters.

Leading American flyers known to be planning transoceanic flights in the near future, including Dick Merrill, Jimmy Mattern, and Howard Hughes, all were located aground.

VOTES TO SEND MEASURE BACK TO COMMITTEE

Substitute Bill Would Leave Size of Supreme Court Unchanged.

ABANDON COMPROMISE

Proposed New Measure Would Affect Only Lower Court Branches.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 22—The senate virtually killed President Roosevelt's supreme court enlargement proposal today for this congressional session.

It voted to send the administration court bill back to its judiciary committee.

The committee was instructed to prepare a new measure affecting the lower courts only and report it to the senate within 10 days. The new measure, based on an eight-point program worked out in committee this morning, would not affect the supreme court in any way.

The vote for returning the measure to committee was 70 to 20.

Senator Logan, Democrat of Kentucky, made the motion to return the bill to committee. He acted upon instructions from the judiciary committee, with whose plan of ending the court dispute both administration chieftains and leaders of the court bill opposition were reported to be in substantial agreement.

The judiciary committee, in an hour and a half executive session attended by Vice President Garner and administration leaders, instructed Senator Logan, Democrat of Kentucky, to make the motion in the senate today to recommit the pending compromise court bill.

Only two senators opposed the decision, first senators leaving the committee room said.

Senator McCarran, Democrat of Nevada, one of the leading foes of the bill, said the committee's action would clear the way for drafting a new bill dealing only with procedure in the lower courts and eliminating all references to the size of the supreme court.

If the senate agrees to the proposal, the committee will have 10 days in which to whip the new bill into shape for presentation to the senate.

Compromise Bill Shelved

The committee's action marked virtual abandonment of the compromise court bill now pending in the senate and was generally considered a complete victory for court bill foes.

The new bill would follow the outlines, in a general way, of the bill suggested yesterday by Senator Wheeler, Democrat of Montana, opposition leader, after he was asked by the administration to submit the opposition's suggestions for legislation.

Attending the judiciary committee meeting today in addition to Garner and regular committee members, were Senator Barkley, of Kentucky, the newly elected Democratic leader, and Wheeler.

Garner and Barkley were closeted as they left the committee room a few minutes before the meeting ended. But Senators McCarran and Logan told newspapermen waiting outside the room what had happened.

The judiciary committee action came after administration leaders had fought with their backs to the wall to save such remnants of the compromise bill as they could.

The proponents, however, had conceded for some time that the foes had enough votes to sidetrack the bill and virtually could dictate the kind of legislation they could pass.

Senator O'Mahoney, Democrat of Wyoming, a leading opponent of the original court bill, announced the committee and administration chieftains had agreed on an eight-

CORN PRICES TUMBLE, CARRY WHEAT DOWN

Drop of More Than 5½ Cents a Bushel Follows Call For Deliveries

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO July 22—Big tumbles of corn prices late today more than 5½ cents a bushel carried wheat values also heavily downgrade

The break in the corn market which had a disturbing effect on other grains was in response to a surprise in the form of posting of notices to deliver about 600 000 bushels of the grain on Chicago July contracts Such a quantity of corn was not believed to be available for tender Reports of available supplies of corn here have been misleading in that they did not include all elevator holdings in hiding grain of foreign origin

Happy Birthday

About the nicest way we've heard of for a grown-up to celebrate a birthday anniversary is the custom which a young man of the city revived this year Until about five years ago, instead of giving a party for him — he was always showered with gifts by his family and friends—his family sent ice cream to the Orphan's Children's Home in Cleveland This year his mother asked him what he'd like for his twenty second birthday anniversary and he said he'd like to receive the cash sum of treating the children to ice cream on July 22 the Marion County Children's home had a picnic and girls had ice cream for dessert.

Rules of Courtesy Given for Autoists and Guests

BY JOAN DURHAM
Associated Press Writer

Convenience is the mother of good motoring manners.

Because guests in the normal order of things should have the choice seats, a terrible etiquet demands that they enter the vehicle first.

Because rumble seats are difficult to get in and more or even impossible for older people and women, should not be asked to sit in them—unless, of course, they express a preference for rumble seats. (In case they do, it's the gentlemen's duty to help them in getting there.)

And because it is more convenient — financially, at least — for several people to ride in one car, it has become customary for friends of the automobile owner to insist on sharing the expenses.

Seven Cents a Mile

Accepted estimates of motoring costs place the expense of owning and operating an average low priced car at around seven cents a mile.

Gas is around 20 cents a gallon. Averaging 15 miles to the gallon, that means the gas costs are almost a cent and a half a mile.

That still leaves five and a half cents—to come out of the driver's pocket.

There's the oil. It averages around 30 cents a quart. It should be changed every thousand miles or so—which means $1.50 if five quarts are used.

Other Expenses

Other items of expenditure besides the actual cost of the car, it self and the insurance, include new tires at least once every 20,000 miles—if the driver is lucky; greasing (every 1,000 miles or so); wax and paint (waxing to the tune of three or four coats will make a tremendous difference in the car's surface during a few storms in snow, storm, sleet); addition of freezeproof liquid in winter; new spark plugs (every 10,000 miles or so); and grinding the valves (every 20,000 miles or so).

All told, it's safe to say, the gasoline, oil, tires, insurance, upkeep and depreciation of the car itself, when the gasoline and oil are figured at the current rate, will run a little less than a quarter of a cent per mile.

Senators Urging Economy Organize As Hatchet Men

Sobriquet Applied in Jest Retained by Legislative Group as Name For Club.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 22—Last March in the gridiron show of the Columbus Press club a chorus of newspaper men sang of the Ohio senate:

"Now there is Mr. Lawrence,
"The president pro-tem,
"Whose leadership was overthrown
"By Yoder's hatchet men."

From that skit sprang the appellation, "hatchet men," which stuck like a burr to a group of 23 senators whose axe-work on the budgets of state departments has caused Gov. Martin L. Davey and many state officials no end of distress.

Hardly had the show ended before senators aligned behind Lieut. Gov. Paul P. Yoder against financial policies of the governor's administration were calling each other hatchet men.

Newspapers took up the expression in preference to "no-new-taxes economy bloc," and soon the governor himself and state officials were calling the budget-cutters hatchet men.

Today there is an organization, the hatchet men. The 23 senators are charter members. They have a constitution, by-laws and officers, and their ideals are good government and good fellowship. The members proudly wear tiny gold hatchets in their coat lapels.

Lieutenant Governor Yoder is the president emeritus, and in his hatchet glistens a diamond.

J. Ralph Seidner, Democrat of Mahoning, is president; John Taylor, Democrat of Columbiana, is first broadaxe, or vice president, and Harry M. Van Doren, Democrat of Summit, is second broadaxe.

The other officers are: Hatcheteer (secretary), Albert D. Baumhart Jr., Democrat of Erie; comptroller hatchet (treasurer), George M. Morris, Democrat of Franklin; tail-twister (sergeant-at-arms), William H. Foss, Democrat of Mercer, and tail-twister-infact, Maurice J. Allen, a senate employe.

The charter membership is limited to the 18 Democrats and five Republicans who subscribed to a "declaration of principles," adopted for regulation of business of the senate in the special legislative session, and who voted to consider nothing but appropriations in the special session and to promote savings.

The constitution provides for associate members, who must be officials of the state or federal government, and for honorary members, who shall be citizens espousing the hatchet men's ideals.

Only charter members may vote, and their unanimous approval is required for the admittance of new members.

The other charter hatchet men, as listed on the organization's rolls, are: Horace W. Baggott, Democrat of Montgomery; Fred L. Adams, Republican of Wood; Emerson Campbell, Democrat of Belmont; Bernard R. Donovan, Democrat of Lucas; Tom Gallagher, Democrat of Cuyahoga; William F. Hurley, Democrat of Lorain; Tom W. Jones, Republican of Meigs; Lawrence A. Kane, Republican of Hamilton; Verner E. Metcalf, Republican of Washington; John F. Myers, Democrat of Stark; Harold D. Nichols, Democrat of Clermont; E. Matthews Steele, Democrat of Clinton; Edward N. Waldvogel, Democrat of Hamilton; John P. Bower, Democrat of Logan, representing the Thirteenth-Thirty-first district which includes Marion county; William M. Boyd, Democrat of Cuyahoga; John F. Connolly, Democrat of Lucas, and Francis P. Howard, Democrat of Franklin.

Frank Hayes, 51, of Akron, arrested here recently as a pickpocket and later found to have a record of 71 arrests throughout the country, is recovering from an operation performed Tuesday at City hospital. He was arrested by Sheriff Miller July 9 at the circus grounds when the sheriff saw his jostle a man. The man later discovered his pocketbook missing. Records from Washington revealed Hayes' long list of arrests and convictions, most for picking pockets. A guard has been placed over him at the hospital.

SEEKS UNITED FRONT ON FARM MEASURE

Chairman of House Agriculture Committee Calls Organizations for Conference.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 22—Chairman Jones, Democrat of Texas, invited representatives of national farm organizations yesterday to discuss with the house agriculture committee next Tuesday legislation designed to stabilize farm prices.

The Texan said he hoped the organizations might compose differences and present a "united front" on a bill in time for its passage this session.

Jones has presented a new bill embracing the "ever-normal" granary and a voluntary crop control program designed to regulate the flow of farm products to market. He said farm groups were in agreement on "general principles" of farm legislation but differed as to methods.

The American Farm Bureau Federation is backing a compulsory control bill that would set up marketing quotas under which violators would be assessed heavy penalty taxes. This bill has been endorsed in principle by Secretary Wallace.

The Farmers' Union, on the other hand, is advocating legislation that would give the secretary of agriculture authority to fix farm prices at a point assuring producers cost of production on crops grown for domestic consumption.

The Jones bill would give the secretary power to fix prices on storage and marketing. Cash benefit would be paid those who complied with their quotas.

Crop Reports.

Every person in America has a vital interest in crop reports, whether he knows it or not, and announcement which means dollars in the pockets of the city workman as well as the farm of the soil has just come out of Washington.

Farm income for 1937, the department of agriculture has just estimated, will amount to $9,500,000,000. This is more than the farmers have received since 1929 and is double their earnings for 1932.

Farmers spend their money in the city and for products of the city. The report means that when the harvests are in and the accounts settled, the farmers will buy all the things which city people are making. This means bigger payrolls, more men at work in the factories and bigger business in the stores.

The soil is the basis of all prosperity. That's where the dollar is created. It is, in a way, new money and in the course of business every dollar the farmer brings to town changes hands many times, adding to the prosperity of the nation with every turnover.

After years of drouth which dried up his crops, floods which washed them away, insect hordes which ate them up and depression which made them valueless, everybody is glad to see the farmer get a break. Especially so since the farmer's prosperity is passed along so substantially and so immediately to the urbanite.

Understanding.

Norman Thomas, three times Socialist candidate for the presidency, advocates with a kind of grim humor that directors and stockholders of industrial concerns be sent in for a day or two to operate the plants they own.

Of course Mr. Thomas knows that the stockholders could no more successfully operate the machines than the mechanics could move into the offices and take over the desks. A much better understanding might be had, however, if each moved closer to the other and observed his work and his problems.

Personally, we never had much occasion to think of the work and problems of a painter until the other night when we "stippled" a kitchen floor. About the time it was half finished and there was no stopping the floor had assumed the proportions of a huge public hall. Since then we've had great respect and sympathy for the painter and a much better understanding of the toll he puts into his work.

If the man at the desk and the man at the machine could exchange experiences there would be more understanding, more toleration and less of the unbending stubbornness on both sides which is the basis of industrial strife.

Conqueror of Space.

Half the city dwellers of America and many more in the remote sections of the land today get much of the pleasure of life from the work of a modest Italian who died Tuesday.

Guglielmo Marconi, inventor of the radio, passed away suddenly and peacefully at his home in Rome.

No man of any time had greater effect on the life of the world. His invention, bringing music of the masters and a thousand other wonders into the home of the people influenced the life and habits of his time in a remarkable degree.

Try to conceive what modern life would be like without the radio and you will appreciate somewhat the debt which the world owes to Marconi.

In The Laboratories.

It is easy to forget the existence of men like the 62-year-old Dr. Edward Carl Rosenow, who surprised the medical profession last Saturday with announcement of isolation of the infantile paralysis germ.

Dr. Rosenow has been working for two decades to make this contribution to civilization. Undoubtedly, now that he has attained one goal, he will set another. There can be no idle hands in laboratories where there are capable minds to keep them busy.

Year in, year out those hands and minds are searching for the knowledge which will make man's existence a little less precarious. It is a glorious work, dulled only a little by the realization that in other laboratories equally skilled minds and hands may be searching for the means of making mass murder more effective and less expensive.

The medical profession, which deplores—and some times with good reason—the public's tendency to make too much of announcements like Dr. Rosenow's, probably will wonder again whether it might not have been wiser to wait before submitting Dr. Rosenow's claim to the interpretations of laymen. Perhaps in this case there is a saving circumstance, however.

The public does not expect a miracle. It realizes that even after isolation of the germ of infantile paralysis, a vast deal remains to be done before practical use of the discovery will be possible. It is willing to be patient. If only it can have the comfort of knowing that the seemingly tireless men who are working to help it are making a little progress.

Shall We Rename It?

The buckeye tree, it seems, is shedding its leaves rapidly, on the way to extinction. There aren't many of the trees left in Ohio, though it must be said that the bitter enders have been making a brave show the last few weeks with their glistening white blossoms.

Some time in the distant future Ohio may find itself with a nickname and nothing to support it, except memories. The Buckeye state, in that case, would be an anachronism—a phrase whose significance had perished before the onslaught of what ever parasite it is that is reported to be specializing on buckeye trees.

When the time comes, could Ohio do better than to rename itself the stop-gap state?

The suggestion may seem ill-natured, but it is at least well supported with evidence that stop-gap is one of the distinctive characteristics of government in this fair state. The senate has voted a stop-gap appropriation to finance state operation. The legislature as a whole never has passed anything but stop-gap laws to deal with relief. It's a question some times whether the legislature is anything but a stop-gap legislature.

The Split Will Widen

BY DAVID LAWRENCE.
Copyright, 1937, by The Marion Star

WASHINGTON, Jul. 22 — Selection of Senator Barkley of Kentucky as majority leader instead of Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi means that the split in the Democratic party, will be intensified, notwithstanding the usual efforts of the moment to create an outward appearance of harmony.

Whether the administration, in the many convert ways at its disposal to influence matters on Capitol Hill, did swing enough votes to carry the election for Senator Barkley will probably never be known, but the fact remains that Mr Barkley was supported very largely by the men who wanted to go along with President Roosevelt in his plan to "pack" the supreme court while Mr. Harrison had the backing of the opponents of the court plan.

The close vote of 38 to 37 emphasizes the almost irreconcilable nature of the cleavage. It is true that Senator Harrison had been counted as willing to vote for the President's court plan, but he has been regarded, on the other hand, as hardly a believer in the scheme, going along merely as a matter of party loyalty just as was the case with the late Senator Robinson of Arkansas.

The administration would have been much better off if Harrison had been chosen leader. Upon him would have devolved the responsibility of bringing harmony in the party and the fact that he had so many friends among the insurgents would have been invaluable to the President.

If Mr Roosevelt really had wished to heal the breach in the party, he would have indicated in the customary way, a that he wanted the Mississippi senator selected, but, on the other hand, he is reported as having said to one of his callers something that indicated that he did not feel Mr Harrison would be as energetic in his behalf as he might be.

Clearly the difference between the two groups in the senate on the Democratic side is broader than the controversy over the court plan. It goes deeper. It is related to the independence of the legislative body itself. There are senators who believe in the king-can-do-no-wrong theory and who have decided that, right or wrong, they will subordinate their own convictions to the wishes of the executive.

This, of course, is not the traditional interpretation of the obligations of representative government, but with the enormous public funds at the disposal of the executive and the rather generous use of public offices and appointments to curry favor with members of congress, the present administration operates on the theory that the end justifies the means.

The split in the Democratic party is going to develop as other pieces of legislation with fundamental principles at stake are brought before the senate, as, for instance, wage and hour bills and possible amendments to the Wagner act.

Meanwhile, the administration, while minimizing the effect of Mr. Roosevelt's effort to drive through a court packing bill is trying now to recover lost ground. The original bill and now the substitute are beaten. Efforts are being directed at revision of lower court procedure, but this may run into a snag. The temper of the moment is to keep hands off the judiciary if the tinkering has any possible connection with political control of the courts.

Incidentally, the tremendous force of public opinion in the court fight was never better illustrated than in the letter written by Senator Wagner of New York to Governor Lehman. Mr Wagner carefully avoided a commitment in favor of the President's bills. This is significant of his realization that the people of New York state are up in arms against tampering with the judiciary. What the letter did show also was that Senator Wagner thought Governor Lehman might better have made his letter public at some other time when it could not have done the damage psychologically as it did here in the last 24 hours. Unhappily, when Senator Wagner offers Governor Lehman the advice that "we should phrase and express our disagreements about methods with a view both to time and circumstance, in a manner designed to interfere least with the achievement of our underlying objectives in accordance with the spirit of our government," he forgot that the very same words might have been said, if not written, to President Roosevelt himself last February before he launched his court plan.

If ever there was a time for true liberals to have united to consolidate gains it was in the beginning of the Roosevelt second term. But the President ignored the members of his own party, consulted nobody in the legislative branch of the government and went off half-cocked so to speak, leaving the Democrats in the senate to meet the court issue as best they could. It was Mr Roosevelt who overlooked both time and circumstance, and this produced a situation in which it was necessary to call upon such a staunch patriot as Governor Lehman to save the so-called leaders of the Democratic party from the consequences of their own folly.

Going Home

THE LAST ship-load of 500 Chinese was dispatched from a Los Angeles cemetery a few days ago. It was the disinterment of bodies for shipment back home, a ceremony which takes place once every 10 years.

Tradition decrees Chinese must return to the land of their ancestors for final rest, but they must be dead at least 10 years before they are ready to return.

Once every 50 year the three Chinese benevolent societies—Bing Yung, Yin Hoi and Kwong Chow—cooperate in disinterring the bones and shipping them back to their native villages.

Carefully sorted into boxes of the right sex and the left side the remains are sealed in tin boxes on which their names are painted in Chinese characters.

A peasant may trudge 50 or 100 miles to carry the bones of his dead to their ancestral tomb, according to William F. Ung, American-born Chinese who is in charge of the work.

In The Classroom

MORE than 5,000 American high schools now teach traffic safety. Similarly, hundreds of elementary schools are building safe drivers through more general safety instruction.

The national youth administration offers help to public safety committees. A. V. Rohweder, chairman of the Minnesota public safety committee, says, "The offer is an opportunity. Let's make it count. Minnesota did. At present 112 schools in which NYA plans and projects are under way have begun collaboration by assisting enrolled youths to definite activities. According to interest and qualifications they are: serving as aides to public safety committee secretaries; checking accident hazards and keeping records of accidents occurring in and around schools; making traffic accident spot maps; assisting in and arranging for conduct of statistical traffic violation counts, etc. It's practical education. It will affect the future safety of Minnesota's citizens."

Steel Strike Cost

STEEL, a basic industry, in the United States determines each year to a large extent the size of the national income and its distribution.

That is one reason why any prolonged tieup in steel production becomes a major problem, not only for the communities directly affected, but for the entire country.

Government, besides its natural interest in steel as an economic factor, has an additional interest in connection with taxes. Steel contributes heavily to public revenue.

The rise in production from a low rate of 75 per cent as closed mills and others on curtailed operating schedules reopened, sustains hope that the strike called against independent steel companies will not be reflected acutely in national income for 1937.

Cost to Government

Government, of course, will be affected, due to loss of taxable income and its own increased expenses due to the strike. This latter burden will be noticed particularly by state and local governments.

Direct effects elsewhere are as follows:

Workers and tens of thousands of others wholly or partially dependent on workers' incomes have sustained a heavy loss, only part of which can be made up as the mills resume operations.

Railroads have taken a heavy loss on income from moving freight to and from steel plants.

Merchants in the steel areas report losses of business ranging from a slight percentage to as much as 50 per cent in communities where patronage is drawn almost entirely from steel workers.

Holders of installment paper of non-working employes report losses.

Business Decrease

As a whole, business was down about 5 per cent at the end of June.

Carloadings were not down from their 1936 level, but they were up only 5 per cent, though prior to the beginning of the strike they had been 15 per cent higher.

A bright spot in the strike picture, from the standpoint of its effect on business, is that it occurred when a summer lull ordinarily occurs. Capacity of approximately 10,000,000 ingots annually was tied up at the peak of the strike, and that represents less than 15 per cent of the country's steel capacity.

During the strike, in other words, 85 per cent of the country's capacity still was available for operations. Though that is not sufficient to meet demand at the current rate, it effectually prevented the steel strike from having an acute effect on national income for the year, commonly estimated at $70,000,000,000.

Business this year still can be as good as expected as far as the country as a whole is concerned, though local communities cannot escape an unfavorable effect.

It all depends on the next turn of events on the strike front. Barring further prolonged tieups of production, business still is expected to be at least 10 per cent better than it was in 1936.

Today in Ohio History

Ohio lost one of her bravest defenders when Gen. James B. McPherson was killed in action, July 22, 1864. He was born at Clyde, O., and raised amid frontier hardships.

As the eldest of four children, the support of the family fell largely to him at the age of 13 when his father died.

McPherson attended Norwalk academy for two years and then West Point, where he was graduated at the head of his class. At the outbreak of the Civil war he became a lieutenant of engineers and won rapid promotion to the rank of brigadier-general. When General Hood attacked the federal troops near Atlanta, McPherson accidentally rode through a gap in the Union lines—full in the face of the enemy—and was shot and killed.

The President's Prestige

BY WALTER LIPPMANN

NEW YORK, July 22 It has been obvious that in this closing phase of the struggle over the judiciary bill the only real concern of the President's supporters has been to maintain his prestige. They have long since ceased to think about the court issue clearly and due process and face to face decisions. For on all the main points the supreme court has overruled itself and removed the substantial causes of complaint. Taking into consideration the arguments of the ablest and sincerest advocates of the bill, it could have been withdrawn by the President when the supreme court adjourned, and he could very plausibly have claimed a great moral victory.

Since that time influence on the bill has made no sense, except on the hypothesis that the President meant to prove to the country that he can have whatever he wants whenever he wants it. This is what his friends have in mind when they talk about "prestige." The great majority of them in congress became persuaded that if they did not enact the bill Mr Roosevelt's reputation would be so damaged that the remainder of his term would be like that of the last two years of Wilson and of Hoover. As partisans, and also as patriots, they felt it their duty to avert such a catastrophe. But there were also a minority, more royalist than the king, more zealous than the zealots, who have wanted to force the decision, believing that if Mr. Roosevelt overruled congress on this issue with such formidable opposition, his personal power would thereafter be irresistible.

But the truth is that Mr. Roosevelt's prestige is involved only in so far as he chooses to get it involved. The President of the United States, unlike the prime minister under parliamentary government, does not resign when one of his important measures is defeated. He carries on. He retains all his powers under the law, and though his influence may be reduced, it is not destroyed, and can be revived. Even Mr. Hoover, after the devastating defeat he had suffered in his first congress, was by no means down and out, and for a brief period in the summer of 1931 might very readily have reestablished his influence had he dared to meet the necessities of the crisis.

The fact of the matter is that any President has enormous power, and that a great majority of the American people are instinctively well disposed to any President. There is little doubt, for example, that after the election a year ago President Roosevelt could have carried almost any policy which he presented with adequate arguments and promoted in a conciliatory spirit. What no President can do in this democracy is to arouse the conviction that he relies not upon the justice of his cause and the wisdom of his policies and the reasonableness of his methods, but rather on his power, his own say-so, his own majestic supremacy, that puts up the dander of the ordinary American who just does not enjoy the spectacle of any one who thinks he is more than life-size.

If Mr Roosevelt wishes to reestablish his prestige after this disastrous interlude he can do it easily enough. Let him abandon the idea that he has a personal mandate from the people to define the "objectives" of the American nation. Let him remember to be President of the United States, and let him scrap the notion that he is the appointed leader of a faction. Let him not suggest measures until he has submitted them to the recognized leaders of his party; let him wish to have these measures debated, and let him treat criticism as a necessary function of government, not as a conspiracy by tax dodgers and oppressors of the poor.

That is not hard to do. That is what the President of the United States is supposed to do. He will be amazed now readily the people respond, how little vindictiveness remains in his most effective opponents, how gladly the people would welcome the news that for the remainder of his term Mr. Roosevelt meant to promote his reforms by uniting rather than by dividing the country.

For it is already well understood, and can easily be made better understood, that was prosperity we enjoy today rests on the precarious foundation of an exceedingly disordered world. For that reason, if our welfare and our hopes of progress are to be preserved and defended, we must have unity among men of good will and we cannot afford the luxury of personal and factional and partisan animosity.

Giving 20 Million Without Show

BY O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, July 22—Not many public gifts have been bestowed so unostentatiously as that of the $20,000,000 art collection Jules S. Bache, the banker, gave to the city recently. Tossing in his 5th avenue home for a museum to house it and providing endowment for maintainance.

Bache had his lawyer announce the donation several hours after he was on the high seas, headed for Europe to visit his daughter, Mrs. Gilbert Miller. The collection is one of the finest private selections in the world, comparable to those of Mellon and Widener.

The donner, a roly poly worldling with precise mustache and monocle clapped in eye, is a lookalike for E. Phillips Oppenheim. At 76 he is a lively patron of the arts, accomplished bon vivant and striking figure at important first nights. Recently he was headlined as a tax evasionist.

For years the banker has been a citizen of the world, maintaining fully staffed establishments in London, Paris, New York and Palm Beach. His select and private dinners are models for gourmets. He has, as much as any man of his time, enjoyed life to the fullest.

Interlude. I popped in on my dentist, Guy Campbell, again yesterday. We agreed as I settled in the chair that it was a wonderfully fine day, so fine indeed that he decided to yank one of the few remaining stumps. I came up bleeding and complaining: "I don't have any fun any more"—but we continued to agree it was a wonderfully fine day.

They were talking of the wonders at world fairs, especially the Columbian Exposition at Chicago. All in the discussion were around my age and most of them recalled artistic touches of architecture, marvelous ground planning and exquisite dome mosiacs. Which more than ever impressed me with the utter worthlessness of my mind. The only thing that impressed itself upon me indelibly at the Chicago Fair was a horse made of prunes.

I have just seen a circular letter from one of the civic organizations touching on the subject of Communism. It is—to use the deb's overworked word—"definitely" an alarmist's epistle. It says Hitlerism and Fascism, whatever their faults, were organized to combat the Moscow menace. That Franco's battle in Spain is simply the honest people fighting the Red influence. And that Trotzky is now at our border for a purpose—and finally its time for the boys here to come down out of the hills with their squirrel guns. All very depressing on a sunny day.

O well it was this writer if you must know—flared up the other day and shrieked something that lacked courtesy to a fair and lovely lady visitor. Both of us were immediately miserable about it. But an honest analyzing flushes out the truth—that the gift wasn't so much to help the lady as to relieve my own state of discomfiture.

Seadrome Test Plan Financed

"Floating Landing Field Nearer Realization.

By United Press

SAN FRANCISCO, Jul. 22—The most recent plan for construction of seadromes to promote transoceanic air lines has won approval of the British admiralty and has gained financial backing of an English company, according to Harold B. Moss, Pan-American engineer.

The engineering aspects of Moss' gigantic floating landing field have been worked out over a number of years in connection with M. E. Helser, Admiralty and 15 years ago was believed to have been the first person to suggest mid-ocean landing fields to make trans-oceanic aerial routes as safe and feasible as possible.

The plan which has been worked out in every detail, approved by the British admiralty and financially backed by the British and Dominions Industrial Consortium, Ltd., of London, calls for a combined landing deck and tank which would make it available for both land and seaplanes.

Provisions are made in the floating tank for a 10 foot depth of water, which Moss declared would be sufficient to meet all requirements of the Pan-American Clipper type can be safely landed in four feet of water.

Cost Runs High

Estimates by the London company place the cost of two of the seadromes, which would be sufficient for trans-Atlantic use at $50,000,000.

The use of mid-Atlantic bases, Moss said would permit flying with reduced fuel supplies and consequently increased pay loads.

The project that has been approved in England calls for a structure 2,100 feet long with a width of 600 feet, supported on huge pontoons twice the diameter of the world's greatest submarines.

These cigar shaped pontoons would be submerged 150 feet below the surface. However, to stabilize the seadromes against violent surface storms as well as the normal drift tendency, special engineering problems were overcome.

To insure equilibrium during the force of storms, Moss and Helser designed a series of downward pointing ship propellers controlled by gyroscopes, sensitive to a roll of one-half a second which would maintain the seadrome at its proper depth and prevent it from pitching. In addition the submerged pontoons would be equipped to take in and force out water as might be necessary to maintain the equilibrium and proper depth.

Drift to Be Overcome

As such a floating landing field cannot be anchored in mid-ocean, somewhat similar arrangements have been made to over come the problem of drift which ordinarily would carry it away from any established location.

This has been done by the designing of another series of water propellers which would be fixed along the edge of the seadrome.

Still another series would be installed at the different corners which at all time would correct and maintain a stable position of the seadrome.

The power to drive all these propellers would be provided by a 50,000 horsepower plant.

Below the landing decks plans provide for living quarters for

It was Friday, July 22, 1927.

FUTURE OF EASTERN ASIA HANGS ON WAR

to attack on the slightest provocation, one fact stands out so clearly in the present struggle between Japan and China that it cannot be obscured. This is that the fundamental issue is that of the future relations between the two countries.

Are they to live together in the far east at peace and on terms of equality or is China to trail behind while Japan controls and directs the destiny of this part of the world?

There is a bewildering array of names of Chinese and Japanese generals, of secret and sectional agreements, and of cluttering secondary issues in the news coming out of China today. All of them, however, cannot fail to obscure this essential fact.

When Manchuria was cut away from China proper and made into an empire closely allied to Japan in a political, military and economic way, the Tokyo government and the war office felt the northern part of China should be made into a special zone under Chinese sovereignty but also under Japanese influence.

Tokyo felt this to be necessary from the standpoint of economic and military preparedness against attack from Soviet Russia and during the latter half of 1935 this goal was accomplished in effect. The Hopeh-Chahar political council, composed of Chinese officials, was set up to govern three two North China provinces and they were declared autonomous but not independent of Nanking.

Irreconcilable Programs

As Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, the Chinese premier, made progress in the steady reunification of his country and the strengthening of the national government at Nanking and of the Chinese army he turned his eyes toward North China with the idea of abolishing this autonomy.

An autonomous North China under Japanese influence was what Tokyo wanted. North China as an integral part of China proper was what Nanking wanted. The two are irreconcilable.

The Tokyo government insists that the present trouble be settled between the Japanese North China garrison, and the Hopeh-Chahar political council alone. The Nanking government insists that this crisis and the deeper issues involved be dealt with between the governments of China and Japan themselves.

The stage is all set for a major war to determine whether China is to be mistress in her own house, particularly in the northernmost rooms, now let out to Japanese tenants.

War may not come at all. Both governments realize that nothing is to be gained by either from such a conflict. Japan wants a five-year period of peace in which to build up her military and industrial machinery to what she calls a semi-wartime basis. China wants an indefinite period for further strengthening and consolidating the republic in every direction.

However, with the stage set for war there is the ever present danger that hostilities may break out whether war is wanted or not. The prospect that Japanese airplanes flying over China may bomb central army troop trains as one Japanese plane did the other day or that Chinese troops may fire on Japanese airplanes is regarded as a highly dangerous factor that may cause an explosion at any moment.

The whole situation may be likened to a smoking, slumbering volcano which may break forth into fire at any moment, engulfing the two countries.

VETO OF ITEMS IN BUDGET TO STAND

Legislative Leaders Inoicate No Attempt To Override Davey Economies Planned.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 22—Legislature leaders indicated today that there would be no attempt to pass the biennial state budget over Gov. Martin L. Davey's vetoes of items totalling $1,155,000 even as the chairman of the state utilities commission and the president of Ohio University said their work would be crippled by the cuts.

Chairman Charles H. Schaber of the commission, a Bucyrus resident, asserted that loss of $43,000 through vetoes might delay all pending rate cases, including the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. rate dispute involving refunds of $15,000,000. The commission received $500,000 for 1937-38.

Said Schaber, "We are hoping to have money to go ahead with these cases, but now we are up in the air. We don't know what to do. We can't go ahead with any of the pending rate cases."

President Herman G. James of Ohio university, whose budget was reduced $74,000 by vetoes, said, "The only hope for normal operation during 1938 lies in the possibility for a special appropriation replacing vetoed items." He said the university might have to give up the use of telephones and would have no money for office supplies under the appropriated $1,621,300.

"The attempt to veto language from the bill calls for a clarification of the constitutional provision," Yoder said.

There was no veto comment from State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson whose department was hit hardest by vetoes, $651,000 being taken from the auditor from the $1,350,000 appropriated by the legislature.

However, Ferguson did answer the governor's mention in the veto message of the auditor's investigations of the highway and liquor departments.

To the Davey assertion that Ferguson "remains strangely silent" and that "this we have a right to assume is a confession of failure," the auditor retorted "at the proper time he will find out that the investigations have been a complete success and not a failure as he would like to have them be."

Atty. Gen. Herbert S. Duffy ruled yesterday that Ferguson had no authority to investigate the state civil service commission without authority of the legislature "although he has, as a private citizen, the right to inspect its records."

the most careless indifference to human life and suffering."

"Wounded prisoners of war might have expected and received greater solitude," it related.

"By the frank admission of all the police, no attempt whatsoever was made to render first aid on the field. * * * Wounded and dying strikers were unceremoniously thrown into police patrols along with uninjured prisoners.

"The record shows that each patrol wagon was equipped with a stretcher, yet the evidence is clear that not a single stretcher was employed to remove the wounded from the field.

"Indeed, as the photographs established, the police dragged seriously wounded, unconscious men along the ground with no more care than would be employed on a common drunkard."

The report was voluminously illustrated with pictures taken by press photographers and excerpts from a newsreel.

It declared that "a number of the police armed themselves with hatchet handles, apparently obtained from the plant," and that Captain James L. Mooney, police commander, did not know where his men obtained the tear gas they threw.

"No gas owned by the police department was employed," the committee added, while the Republic steel plant was "abundantly supplied" with gas bombs.

SCOTTSBORO NEGRO GETS 99-YEAR TERM

Death Sentence Ordered for Another; Third Trial Opens.

By The Associated Press

DECATUR, Ala., July 22—Another "Scottsboro" Negro went to trial today, confronted by the state's unbroken string of 10 convictions in the nine-fold case.

Imprisonment for 99 years was decreed yesterday for Andy Wright by the tenth jury to sit in judgment of one of the nine Negroes accused of attacking two white women aboard a freight train.

Charlie Weems was called to trial today.

Another death sentence, meanwhile, became a part of the bulky "Scottsboro" record. Shortly after Wright was convicted, Judge W. W. Callahan sentenced Clarence Norris, convicted a third time last week, to die Sept. 24.

The execution automatically was stayed, however, by a defense notice of appeal.

CIO LABOR ACT SUIT DELAYED TWO WEEKS

Attorney's Characterization of Governor Davey Stricken From Record of Trial.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 22—A two-week adjournment lay ahead today in the Committee for Industrial Organization's suit to halt alleged violations of the national labor relations act in the Ohio steel strike.

Federal Judge Mell G. Underwood announced the delay until Aug. 4 after the CIO attorneys rested their case late yesterday.

Judge Underwood took under advisement the CIO request for an immediate order to restrain temporarily Gov. Martin L. Davey, the Ohio National Guard and sheriffs of Trumbull, Mahoning and Stark counties from limiting picketing, prohibiting members of the Steel Workers Organizing Committee from pursuing lawful means of collective bargaining, and making mass arrests.

The court dismissed, at the CIO's request, Mayors James Seccombe of Canton and Henry Krier of Massillon as defendants.

Stricken from the record was the characterization of Governor Davey by Edward Lamb, CIO counsel, as "No. 1 Judas or scab in the American labor history," a remark which was protested vigorously by defense counsel.

Lamb replied to their demand for an apology in court.

"I don't want any one to be confused; I didn't say he was a Judas or scab, but I did say he was the No. 1 Judas or scab."

TRAXLER FACES CELL IN TEXAS PRISON

and Tindol fled into the brush before a hail of bullets.

Mrs. Traxler in Tears

Mrs. Traxler burst into tears when informed her desperado husband had been wounded and captured.

"Take him to a good hospital," she sobbed. "I'll pay for it. I've got the money."

Earlier the auburn-haired wife of the outlaw had predicted Traxler never would be taken without a fight.

"He would rather they would kill him than send him back to prison," she said.

Without success, officers questioned Traxler concerning whereabouts of Charles Chapman, Arkansas bank robber, third fugitive from Eastham, Texas, prison farm. He was with Traxler and Tindol last week when they abducted Baird M. Markham Jr., son of a wealthy New York oil man, near Ada.

Markham later was released unharmed.

Tells of Hearing Dogs

Traxler and Tindol, fleeing from officers after the capture of Mrs. Traxler, eluded bloodhounds from McAlester penitentiary.

"We kept going through the river bottoms all night," Traxler said. "Everywhere we went we could hear the dogs. Once we almost ran into some officers.

"They blamed me for a lot of things I didn't do," Traxler said. "Even on this last trip we never hurt anybody. All we wanted was to get away some place."

On July 9, Traxler, Tindol and Chapman, with six other convicts broke from the Eastham, Texas, prison camp. One convict was slain and a guard wounded.

Traxler and his two companions abducted a Texas rancher, stole two automobiles and then fled into Oklahoma.

For 12 days the trio spread terror over Oklahoma. Federal Bureau of Investigation and State Crime Bureau agents and officers of the state highway patrol joined in a widespread hunt.

FLOOD PROGRAM GIVEN APPROVAL

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 22—The senate commerce committee approved today measures authorizing expenditures of approximately $70,600,000 for flood control and river and harbor improvements in all parts of the country.

The rivers and harbors measure would authorize new projects and preliminary surveys to cost an estimated $46,200,525. The flood control bill would authorize new projects in the Ohio river basin totaling $24,877,000, and some scattered preliminary surveys.

Both measures have passed the house.

SPANISH INSURGENTS DRIVE ON 2 FRONTS

Franco's Warriors Hammer at Two Strategic Points To Maintain Siege.

By The Associated Press

MADRID, July 22—Generalissimo Francisco Franco's warriors fought strenuously today for a stranglehold at the neck of the government's salient into insurgent siege lines west of Madrid.

At the same time they hammered at the middle of the government spearhead salient east of Villanueva de la Canada in a furious struggle to hold tight the eight and one-half month old siege of the capital.

In the Villanueva de la Canada sector, some 15 miles west of the city, Franco's men held dominant positions on "Peak No. 660" which they swept clean of government troops for a third time last night.

A few miles to the north insurgent infantrymen drove hard against the government's eastern and western flanks at the mouth of the "pocket" pushed southward into Franco's rear guard positions more than two weeks ago.

At the tip of the government salient, insurgent forces tried to level a path to Brunete to wipe out that government outpost from which Gen. Jose Miaja, central front commander, threatened to complete encirclement of siege forces entrenched on the outskirts of Madrid.

Government machine gunners held Brunete in the face of heavy attacks. The insurgent failure to take the town was regarded by Miaja's aides as possibly the turning point in Franco's counter-offensive.

They estimated insurgent losses, dead and wounded, in the recent Madrid fighting at 30,000.

colonial secretary, argued the proposal was the only solution that would recognize "interests of Moslem, Jew and Christian."

"The guns which have been sent to the Arabs by Mussolini to fight the Jews might be sent in the future to fight some one else," declared Labor-ite D. Frankel.

An independent laborite, Campbell Steven, said the government "should state what would be its attitude if the United States or France is prepared to accept the mandate."

"Would the British government step aside and allow France to take over the mandate?" he asked, then expressed hope his words would reach Palestine.

"And you with them," shouted a Laborite.

Steven's colleague, George Buchanan, whirled on the labor benches.

"You cheeky, impertinent devil," he snapped.

BODY BELIEVED THAT OF KARPIS' SURGEON

Authorities Link Corpse with Doctor's Disappearance.

By The Associated Press

TOLEDO, O., July 22—Federal officials said today they were convinced the decomposed body of a man found near Toledo Sept. 4, 1934, was that of Dr. James Moran of Chicago who performed facial operations on members of the Alvin Karpis gang.

The officials, who declined to be quoted by name, said that while identification was impossible they had learned during grand jury investigations of persons indicted for harboring the gangster that Moran was in Toledo in July, 1934.

Moran and a woman companion attended a party with the gang at a Toledo night club at which Moran became intoxicated, the officials said. He left with various members of the crowd, they added, and never was seen thereafter. His companions returned to the club in an hour.

Karpis and his limping aid, Harry Campbell, are serving life terms in Alcatraz prison for the St. Paul kidnaping of Edward Bremer. Moran operated on members of the Karpis gang, federal officials said, in an effort to disguise them.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 22—Director J. Edgar Hoover of the federal bureau of investigation said today statements that a decomposed body found near Toledo in 1934 was that of Dr. James Moran were unfounded.

"There is nothing to it," Hoover told newsmen.

Justice department files indicate that Dr. Moran disappeared shortly after performing facial operations on members of the Alvin Karpis gang.

N. Y. POLICE REOPEN 1930 MYSTERY CASE

Disappearance of Supreme Court Justice 7 Years Ago Studied.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, July 22—Seven years old, still as baffling as the day it happened, and fast becoming an almost legendary mystery of New York police annals, the disappearance of Supreme Court Justice Joseph Force Crater was a live problem again today.

Amidst a new outburst of theories that the justice disappeared voluntarily, was slain by robbers, was murdered by politicians, and committed suicide, New York police re-opened their investigation of what happened to him after he got into a taxicab in Times Square on the night of Aug. 6, 1930.

The inquiry was launched by John A. Lyons, assistant chief inspector in charge of detectives, on orders from Acting Police Commissioner Harold Fowler after a New York newspaper published an interview with the missing jurist's wife, Mrs. Stella M. Crater, quoting her as charging her husband was "murdered" in connection with "his political career" and that New York police were "inefficient" in their original investigation.

Mrs. Crater, located at her summer home near Belgrade Lakes, Maine, denied last night she had "mentioned murder" and that she had criticized the police, but the new investigation was on.

Mrs. Crater said she believed her husband is dead.

"He must be dead," she said. "I cannot think anything else. If he were alive I would have heard from him something in the last seven years."

GETS PEN SENTENCE IN TORTURE ROBBER

By The Associated Press

BEAVER, Pa., July 22—Philip Poghan, a Youngstown, O., taxicab driver, was under sentence of two and one-half to five years in Western penitentiary today for the torture robbery of Theodore Bordner, Economy township recluse.

Poghan, who pleaded guilty, said he jumped bail following his arrest several months ago in Youngstown and that "I did it under advice of my attorney." District Attorney Robert E. McCreary ordered a copy of Poghan's testimony sent to the Mahoning county, Ohio, courts with the recommendation that if the statement were true, proceedings be started to "clear the bar of attorneys obstructing justice."

M'CABE WALKS OUT OF UNION SESSION

Asserts He Won't "Go On Trial Again" at Glass Workers Convention.

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 22—President Glen W. McCabe walked out of the convention of the Federation of Flat Glass Workers today, declaring: "I do not intend to go on trial again."

McCabe's action followed the convention's temporary rescinding of a vote to arbitrate the attempt of the union's executive board to remove McCabe from the office he has held since formation of the federation in 1933.

The president's remarks referred to attempts of the convention delegates to question him regarding a court fight several months ago in which the executive board charged he had mismanaged funds of the union's magazine.

The convention and a "rump" session of dissented union representatives friendly to McCabe agreed yesterday to let Chairman John L. Lewis of the CIO arbitrate the internal dispute. But convention leaders disclosed today that their group later voted to table the arbitration decision temporarily.

Accepting an invitation to appear today before the convention for the first time since it went into session more than a week ago, McCabe said:

"It's the most high handed, unprincipled method ever practiced in a labor union."

O. E. S. District Officers Guests At Picnic Here

Guests included the matrons and patrons of District No. 11, Order of the Eastern Star, and their families. Mrs. Neidhart is deputy grand matron of the district, which includes 16 chapters.

Strings of lights illuminated the lawn which provided an attractive setting for the picnic, and the long tables at which covers were laid for 45, were centered with bouquets of summer flowers. The evening was spent with games and contests. Present were Mrs. Lillian Wilson of Sunbury, district president, Mrs. Mabel Carson, grand representative to Puerto Rico and Mr. Carson, of Delaware, and guests from Marion, Delaware, Belle Center, Sunbury, West Liberty, Ashley, Bellefontaine, Ostrander, Marysville and Richwood.

On Aug. 11 the matrons and patrons and associate matrons and patrons of the district will hold a family picnic at the park in Marysville.

Marriage Meddlers

BY ADELE GARRISON

Harry Is Irked by Attentions the Musicians Are Paying Carolyn and Marion

"I HAVE no intention of going away," I said quickly in response to Lillian's declaration. "Not that I wouldn't love a drive with you," I hastily told my husband, "but I always respect Lillian's hunches. If she thinks she's going to need me, I'm going to be right here."

"Thanks a lot, Old Dear," Lillian said gratefully. "I hopes mah hunch is wrong, but I done lost mah rabbit's foot, and I feahs de worst."

"Then anything better than the worst will be velvet," Dicky told her, and, rising from the table, pressed an affectionate hand on my shoulder.

"It's a restaurant, and allen eyes are on us," he said lightly, "so consider yourself kissed. So long."

He walked away from us on the word, but he left in my heart a warm glow. For a wife of many years' standing does not always need tangible caresses to tell her of her husband's love.

Harry Watches Dancers

"Bless him!" Lillian said affectionately, looking after him. "He's a true knight-errant, tilting in the tournament for the honor of his lady. You've championed those orphaned nephews of his, and he's going to make sure that your work hasn't been in vain."

"I'm beginning to wish it had been," her big husband said, and there was something in his voice which brought us both to attention. He was watching the dancers intently, but I noticed that every few seconds he shifted his glance to the orchestra platform, which he was in a better position to see than we were.

"What is it, Harry?" Lillian asked quietly.

He did not answer for a second, then his tone was menacing.

"It begins to look as if I'd have to knock that bird's block off before the evening's over," he said.

His wife laid a restraining hand upon his arm.

"You mustn't let it come to that," she said. We'll shake the youngsters out of here before you have to do anything drastic."

He relaxed under her touch, as he always does, and laughed a bit ruefully.

Another Problem

"I was speaking rhetorically," he said. "Don't worry! I'm not going to go berserk."

"I'm glad to hear it," Lillian said, smiling. "But tell us what you are seeing, and let us compare notes."

He moved his chair to one side, leaving us an uninterrupted view of the orchestra platform.

"D'ye see that bird up there with the big cello" he asked.

"The one Carolyn dubbed 'divine?'" Lillian countered.

"The same," he said. "Watch him closely. He's making the boldest kind of play for Carolyn, and I believe, on my word, the little devil is sending him a sly encouraging glance occasionally. But that's not the thing that gets me. She's asking for whatever unpleasant incident that may develop. But Marion isn't."

"Marion?" his wife queried in quick alarm, panic written in her face. "Why, what do you mean?"

"Simply that there's another bird up there, the solo violinist, who's got his eye on her, or I miss my guess," Marion's big stepfather said angrily. "It's all Carolyn's fault of course. The two girls are together and I suppose seeing the sly flirtation that's going on between his comrade and her he thinks he has a right to try his luck with the young woman he would call her 'girl friend.'"

AT HARPERS FERRY

The governor of Virginia and the governors of some of the other slave states manifested jumpy nerves while John Brown, the abolitionist, was being tried at Harpers Ferry.

Governor Wise advised Governor Salmon P. Chase that it was reported to him that a large body of Ohio abolitionists had organized and were about to march into Virginia, and called upon Governor Chase to halt the movement. Governor Chase assured the Virginia governor that he would do his best to halt it.

The rumors of violence, and invasion continued until the execution of John Brown on Dec. 2, 1859, but nothing happened.

Regular passenger airplane service has been established in the Philippine Islands between Manila and Paracale, center of the gold mining district.

Nationally-Known Racers Coming Here for Regatta

Five States To Be Represented by Drivers in Sunday Event on Scioto River at Newmans.

Nationally known outboard racing pilots from throughout Ohio and four other neighboring states are expected to come here Sunday to augment the group of Marion city and county drivers taking part in the second annual motor boat regatta to be held on the Scioto river Sunday afternoon.

Prominent racers from Kentucky Indiana Pennsylvania and Michigan many of them members of the Mid East Racing association which is sanctioning the regatta here have notified officials of their intention of entering the Marion competition. Possible entries include Jack Wood of Detroit who took part in last years races. Gar Wood Jr. son of the famous racing boat builder and pilot Bobby Meyers of Chicago who last year walked off with the bulk of the cash prizes offered in the Marion event and George Massey of Cleveland boat designer and builder.

James Altman of New Kensington Pa. commodore of the Mid East association Morton Mandell of Cleveland Heights executive secretary of the organization and two outstanding Indianapolis drivers Tony Venacci and Art Werner are also among those expected to be on hand for the Marion regatta. J. C. Kessell of Ft. Wayne Ind. who holds the national amateur class A championship will defend his laurels here according to word received by Pa Dwyer a member of the committee in charge of arrangements for the program.

Drivers will be vieing for five trophies and money prizes totaling $225 the awards being furnished by uptown merchants and the cash awards offered by the sponsoring organizations the Marion County Voiture of 40 et 8 and the Marion County Outboard Racing association. Three trophies will be offered the winners of the midget race the Saranac trophy for the driver collecting the highest number of points during the entire program and the Sol Freed trophy to the winner of the Marion county championship event.

The racing program of approximately three hours duration will begin at 2 o'clock with the six horsepower midget crafts competing in the first event according to plans of the committee in charge. In addition to the midget competition one event will be restricted to Marion county drivers and two events each for class A, B, C and an open division. The presentation of the awards and a demonstration of a new fire fighting boat manufactured by the Handley Engineering Co. of Prospect will complete the program.

For the benefit of spectators members of the Mid East association today explained the markings and numbers of the boats which will take part. The number S-60 for instance denotes to the experienced spectator that the boat is owned in Ohio and driven by a professional pilot. The letter S is affixed to all Ohio boats while even numbers denote professional drivers and odd numbers designate amateur drivers.

Insignias of crafts owned in Marion city and county are: Pat Dwyer class C boat 9-66 Wally Horn and Aden Harrold class C boat 9-16 Reed Hughes and T. E. Carey class B 9-3 Stanley Berry of Prospect class B 9-20 and Jack Briley class F 9-26. The class designates the horsepower of the craft. Class A being 12 horsepower or less class B 16 horsepower class C 32 horsepower and class F 60 horsepower with the midget boats having 7½ or less horsepower.

COLLECTING LIQUID RUBBER ON FIRESTONE PLANTATIONS IN LIBERIA
An ever-increasing supply of rubber comes from these plantations. Savings made by controlling raw materials and by more efficient manufacturing and distribution make extra values possible at no extra cost.

BECAUSE in Firestone Standard Tires—

YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST BLOWOUTS—eight extra pounds of rubber are added to every 100 pounds of cord by the Firestone patented Gum-Dipping process. By this process every cord in every ply is saturated with liquid rubber. This counteracts internal friction and heat that ordinarily cause blowouts.

YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST PUNCTURES—because under the tread are two extra layers of Gum-Dipped cords.

YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST SKIDDING—because the tread is scientifically designed.

YOU GET LONGER NON-SKID MILEAGE because of the extra tough, long-wearing tread.

Before leaving on your vacation trip, join the Firestone SAVE A LIFE Campaign by equipping your car with a set of new Firestone Standard Tires—today's top tire value.

Marion dropped to the lowest rung of the current season six games out of first place after suffering a 6 to 4 defeat at Mansfield yesterday. The hard-hitting Red Sox pounded out nine base hits three off Manager Geygana starting hurler Merritt Lancaster the 18-year old baby of the Marion mound staff and six off Lefty Spence who went to the hill with one out in the third inning.

The Sox piled the ball for four doubles and a home run while Marion hitters were let down with six singles off Schmeltmiller who turned in his tenth victory in 11 starts. The Geyganites jumped to an early lead with three runs in the initial inning but were unable to keep up the blistering pace set by the Boston farm hands.

Geygana boys broke out with a rash in the first frame when the lead off batter Stiewe went down to first after being hit by a pitched ball. Leftfielder Baker walked and Stan Platek followed with a single that loaded the bases. Tel Swed was called out on strikes and Karl Kauffman filed to Blackhawk Pilot Geygan rapped a timely single to center scoring Stiewe and Yoder and sending Platek to third.

Balk Scores Run

Schmeltmiller whose mound duty in the early innings was erratic became responsible for Marion's third run as he committed a balk in an attempt to catch Geygan off first base. Platek scored and Geygan went to second on the balk. Third sacker Harris ended the inning by grounding out shortstop to first.

FIRED AS BROWNS' CHIEF, HORNSBY CONSIDERS SUIT

By The Associated Press

ST LOUIS Mo July 22—Gossip and speculation closely followed after an explosion which gave the impotent St. Louis Browns a new manager and opened the gates for threatened legal action by the deposed "Rajah."

Rogers Hornsby 41 year old manager whose career reached unrivaled heights of the "dead ball" era and his first assistant Coach Charlie O'Leary were handed suddenly and in their stead were installed popular Sunny Jim Bottomley as manager and Charles "Gabby" Street former Cardinal and St. Paul manager as coach.

Hornsby who had been at the helm since the middle of the 1933 season said he would appeal to Baseball Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis or if he contemplates any legal action Hornsby said "Not until I find out just what the club is going to do about" the contract.

"Mr. Barnes (Don Barnes president of the Browns) offered me $50 000 yesterday after the season that I assumed as manager but I did not accept and he added and I'm waiting when he club in ends old man is my belief his style is good up to the close of the season and those I have spoken about I agree on has a point."

Barnes countered:

"Our attorneys have given opinion that the contract can be terminated—absolutely."

Hornsby was notified of his dismissal in a letter personally handed him by Barnes. The letter said it was "for the interest of the club."

Stepping up from coaching manager Bottomley quickly injected the skippers style and ability men a pep talk and promised he would "do all I can to make the Browns a winning ball club."

COLUMBUS, MILLERS' NECK AND NECK IN RACE FOR A. A. TITLE

Reds Split Twin Bill With Indianapolis; Minneapolis Loses to Brewers.

By The Associated Press

The American association's leadership battle, which at times it squeaks, showed no signs of lessening up today, with Minneapolis and Columbus in a virtual tie for first place Toledo trailing a game farther back.

Although the Red Birds suffered a second shutout beating of the season in the first game of a two and night doubleheader, they came back to whip Indianapolis in the nightcap and all but knock Minneapolis' first place maroons out of the lead. Lefty Ben Logan kept eight Saints hits in the afternoon game to give the Indians a 3 to 0 victory and Bill McGee allowed Columbus pitchers as Columbus won the night tilt, 4 to 1.

The Millers took a 9 to 3 beating from Milwaukee, leaving them with only a percentage point advantage over Columbus—.576 to .574.

Toledo defeated Louisville's Colonels 2 to 1 to move closer to the leading four. St. Paul and Kansas City broke a doubleheader, the Saints winning the opener, 17 to 4, and the Blues winning the second, 7 to 2.

SNATCHES OF SPORTS

BY EDDIE BRIETZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, July 22—Too bad Rogers Hornsby had to go...but the fans were "on" him and the club wasn't drawing...Paid attendance at a recent game was only 712. ...Big league clubs can't get very far on crowds like that.... The full handle of Tommy Farr is Thomas George Paul Farr...Clara Mortensen, the gal wrassler, is packing 'em in on the Pacific coast. Jimmy Braddock may make the first start of his new campaign against Roscoe Toles in Detroit this summer with Scotty Monteith doing the promoting... Joe McCarthy of the Yankees says Pie Traynor of the Pirates is the greatest third sacker he can remember.

On the same day Cleveland sports writers were demanding a snappier double play combination, the Indians pulled four... One of the reasons the Giants keep hanging around the top of the National league is their ability to win close games. So far they've figured in 25 that have been decided by one run and have won 16 of them.

MANSFIELD'S 9 HITS SINK MARION TEAM

first inning after the bases were loaded with three walks, staged a second frame comeback that netted a lone tally. Spartichino was passed, and both runners were safe as Lee bunted and Lancaster attempted to throw Spartichino out at second. Schneidmuller struck out, Barrett doubled to score Spartichino, Lee being out on the play at the plate on Platek's throw, relayed to Mulvihill by Geygan. Barrett was left stranded as Bierchenk grounded out, Harris to Sweed.

The tallying three runs that gave the Sox the lead they held to the completion of the ball game were scored in the fourth frame on two walks and singles by Stover and Gilbert. Lancaster walked Patras, Stover singled and Mansfield tallied on Gilbert's single to center. Vesek lined to Geygan for the first put out. Spartichino walked, and with the bases loaded Spence was waved to the mound. Spence whiffed Lee and Schneidmuller forced Stover at third, to end the inning.

Mansfield added its only other run in the sixth inning on Leftfielder Patras' home run and the Geygantics scored a single tally in the eighth on an error and steals.

The Red Sox will come to Marion, Friday afternoon, for a doubleheader at Lincoln park, with the first game starting at 1:30 o'clock. It's the first home game in more than a week for both the Geygantics and it will be celebrated by observing both Ladies Day and Knot Hole Gang Day. Gene Morris and Johnny Brich are likely choices as starting pitchers for the twin bill. Marion was to travel to Tiffin today and it was expected that Manager Geygan would depend on Gordon "Slim" Mann to handle the mound duties.

Fremont, Tiffin Win

Fremont broke an eight-game losing streak yesterday with a ninth-inning 5 to 4 victory over Findlay at Anderson park in Fremont. Andy Vavrek's only hit scored Kleiman and Hickson with the deciding runs. Kleiman, Fremont hurler, struck out 10 batters.

Although held to two hits, the Tiffin Mud Hens nosed out the Fostoria Red Birds, 3 to 1, at Fostoria yesterday. Tiffin's only hits, a double by Waldo and a single by Ebranyl came in the first inning and helped the Hens to two runs. Don Scott, Fostoria right-hander walked 10 men and two of the three Tiffin runs were unearned.

VILLAGE TEAM IN JR. LEGION FINALS

COLUMBUS, O., July 22 — A group of young baseball players from Pemberville, Wood county, matched skill today with a Columbus team to determine the 1937 champion of the American Legion junior state tournament.

Pemberville, a community of less than 1,000 persons, tripped Akron 10 to 9 in a semi-final game and Columbus Franklin Post beat Duncan Falls 11 to 8 in the other.

Today's final was at Red Bird stadium as a curtain-raiser to the Columbus-Indianapolis American association game.

ALL LOSERS' SCORING IN INITIAL INNING; EPWORTH WINS, 7-5

Trinity Wins From Forest Lawn by Forfeit in Series of Postponed Games.

Scores Last Night

Epworth 7, Lee Street 5.
Wesley 10, Salem 8.
Trinity forfeited to Forest Lawn.

Forest Lawn	3	6	.333	6
Salem	1	8	.111	8

(GB—Games behind leader).

Wesley's softball aggregation, pennant-bound in Sunday school league No. 1, widened its first place margin to three full games with the completion of a round of postponed games last night. Wesley turned in an eight-inning victory over Salem, 10 to 8, while the second-place Lee Street club was downed, 7 to 5, by Epworth. The only other scheduled game result in Forest Lawn winning on a forfeit from Trinity Baptist.

Salem's eight runs in the initial inning against Wesley, had fans convinced that the winning streak of the league leaders had been halted. Wesley fought back valiantly, picking up six tallies in the third and one each in the fourth and seventh to deadlock the count at 8-8, at the end of the regulation seven innings. In the first extra frame Wesley sluggers brought in two tallies and then went to the field to hold Salem scoreless and win by the two-run margin.

Wesley has but six games remaining on its summer schedule and with the addition of each victory it becomes more unlikely that the team will be unseated from its top spot on the league ladder. Lee, the nearest rival, is a full three games behind, and Epworth, although winning over the Streeters last night, is still four games out of first place. The scores by innings of last night's contests follow:

BROWNS LOSE AGAIN DESPITE NEW CHIEF; CLEVELAND WINS 2

Indians Edge Athletics, 9-8 and 8-7; Reds Sink Giants, 6-5.

BY SID FEDER
Associated Press Writer

The wolves are different in St. Louis.

Anywhere else, the chances are they'd get some ball players. But when they open up on the Browns, they wind up with the manager's scalp.

If any one could have done a better job with the Brownies than old Rajah Hornsby, he hasn't made his appearance in big-time ball up to now. Certainly, no one can do any better with the material at hand.

With a pitching staff that was virtually non-existent, the Rajah was lucky to finish in the same league with the rest of the American loop larrupers. That he finished out of the cellar last year was a miracle.

But the new Brownies' bosses have used little if any cash for pitching talent. Instead of giving Hornsby some elbowers that might have a 50-50 chance of finishing what they started, the powers that be fired Hornsby.

They might have taken a tip from the Boston Bees. Bob Quinn moved in there two years ago and found a club dying on the feet. But instead of pouring it on Bill McKechnie he has backed Bill up, and now he has brought together a pitching staff that is the pride of the National league, if not the entire big time.

Lou Fette and Jim Turner, a couple of Mississippi "hookies," ate the latest with whom Quinn and McKechnie have come up to baffle batting opposition. Fette and Johnny Lanning, a second-year man, had a cinch yesterday with the Cardinals and walloped them in both ends of a doubleheader, 9-1 and 7-1.

A homer by Ray Mueller with the bases loaded in the 11th inning was the first game for Fette. Then Lanning, matched against Dizzy Dean, whose big toe is healed again, toward a two-hitter at the Cub House gang for the nightcap decision.

The Chicago Cubs stretched their National league lead to two full games over the crippled Giants by whipping the Phillies in a twin bill. The most astonishing part about it was that Bill Lee and Larry French allowed only 14 hits and one run in the Phils' pint-sized ball orchard to win, 6-1 and 6-0.

A five-run rally in the fifth gave the Cincinnati Reds a 6-5 decision over the Giants. George Jeffcoat cuffed in a four-hitter to blank the Pirates for a 6-0 Brooklyn win.

Although Sunny Jim Bottomley was the new manager for the Browns, it was the same old ball club. So the Yankees trimmed them, 6-3.

Jimmy Foxx smashed out two homers for the second straight day to lead the Red Sox in a 10-3 walloping of the Detroit Tigers. Washington's Senators ended a 12-game "win-less" run by topping the White Sox, 7-3. The Cleveland Indians just managed to nose out the Athletics in both ends of a twin bill, 9-8 and 8-7.

LITTLE SANDUSKY, RICHWOOD TO PLAY

Little Sandusky's Village Tavern baseball team will meet the Richwood club Sunday at 2 p. m. at Fowler field in Little Sandusky. Lee Barber is scheduled to pitch and Kenneth Culver to catch for the home team. Raymond Culver may also be used on the mound.

ADOPT NEW RECRUIT PLAN

Naval Officer Will Come Here at Regular Periods From Lima Stations.

A new system of handling recruit applications for the United States Navy in this district will start Friday when H. E. Trusler of Lima, recruiting officer for 11 counties including Marion, will be at the postoffice here to interview interested young men. Until further orders from his superiors, Mr. Trusler will visit Marion on alternate Fridays to take applications.

The change has been made due to the belief of naval officials that many men who wish to enlist are either too busy or cannot afford to make the trip to the Lima recruiting office, Mr. Trusler said. Other counties in this district are Hardin and Wyandot and others to the north and east.

Applicants for enlistment must have the following qualifications: native born or naturalized American citizens, not less than 17 years old when enlisted of good character, mentally qualified, not less than 63 inches in height if under 18 years of age and not less than 64 if 18 or over, of proportionate weight to age and height, single.

They must also pass a rigid physical examination, an intelligence test, secure consent of parent or guardian if minors, furnish reference, have no police record excepting minor infractions not involving moral turpitude.

Applicants of 18 years of age or over are enlisted for four years, and under 18 are enlisted until they are 21. First enlistments are for a basic pay of $21 monthly and to general assignment.

After enlistment, the recruits are transferred to a naval training station for 12 weeks and then to sea service. Some are transferred to advance schools.

Hay Fever.

THOUSANDS AND thousands of persons are the victims of hay fever. This annoying disorder is thought to be the effect of pollen or some other substance that is irritating to the given individual. There have been devised certain tests to determine the particular plant the pollen of which is responsible for the attacks.

It is too bad that large numbers fail to avail themselves of these tests. This is unfortunate because every hay fever victim should try to learn if he can exactly what pollen or substance has to do with his misery. Even if you have had this test performed without good results it is well that you have it repeated.

Every year new species are being added to the long list of known hay fever-producing plants. No doubt you will be surprised to learn that the list, formerly a short one, now contains more than 100 different plants. Many grasses and plants have been discovered to be among the offenders.

The test is a simple procedure, painless and harmless. To avoid it is to neglect the chance of a possible cure.

One after another the extracts of certain pollens are injected under the skin. The area around the scratch mark is watched to see what reaction takes place. If there should be redness and swelling within a few hours or days, it means the individual is sensitive to that particular pollen.

If this is the case, it may be possible to obtain a vaccine derived from that pollen. If this preparation is injected into the tissues several times, the resistance against the evil effects of the pollen is obtained. Some persons are sensitive to, or "allergic" as the doctors call it, more than one pollen. For this reason, it is important that the test should consist of a series of injections.

It must be borne in mind that many who have hay fever may be sensitive to other substances besides pollen. For example, they may suffer in the same way from taking certain foods, or wearing certain textiles used in clothing or some other object with which they come in contact daily. The sensitivity to these substances can be determined by similar tests.

I strongly advise that all sufferers of this disease consult with a doctor. He will tell where the necessary tests can be made to determine the underlying cause and prepare the way for treatment.

IT'S ODD
But It's Science

By HOWARD BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor.

PITTSBURGH—Heavy ice, made by freezing heavy water, has found its first practical use.

It is a good target to shoot at with an atom gun. One of these guns is made by setting a positive and negative electrode so that there is a high difference in potential between them.

If electrified atoms are fed to one electrode they shoot like bullets against the other electrode. Ice is not a good electrode. But the heavy ice is so used by freezing a thin layer of heavy water over a metal electrode.

The atomic bullets used to shoot at heavy ice are heavy hydrogen particles, the stuff which makes heavy water when combined with oxygen. The result of hits on the ice is a nice stream of neutrons, an atomic particle used by physicists to investigate the structure of matter.

C. M. Slack and L. F. Ehrke of the Westinghouse company tell of the new ice gun in the Review of Scientific Instruments.

An automatic device to be installed under an automobile hood has been invented to keep storage batteries filled with water to the correct level.

Proclamation of 1908 Calls for County Dry Vote

A sheriff's proclamation, issued in 1908 to announce a local option election for Marion county, was found yesterday in a cabinet in the office of Sheriff Fred F. Miller by women engaged in a WPA project of cleaning and renovating the courthouse.

The 29-year-old proclamation has been posted on the bulletin board outside the county auditor's office. It is printed on linen and is signed by Euston E. Brown, who was sheriff in 1908 and who died early this spring.

The local option issue was voted on in an election on Sept 26, 1908, and resulted in a ban on the sale of intoxicating liquor in the county. The county remained dry for three or four years, a period in which Crawford county saloon keepers thrived on trade from this county, old-time residents recalled today.

The special election was ordered by the board of county commissioners "to determine whether the sale of intoxicating liquor as a beverage shall be prohibited," the proclamation states.
